WHENUA OHO

Featured in our very first newsletter in February was the newest member of the Whenua Oho team, Gwen Brooking, Te Tariwai – Director of Operations. In this month's newsletter we would like to introduce Kanapu Rangitauira, Te Pua – Director of Landowner Engagement.

Te Pua – Director of Landowner Engagement

E ngā kaitiaki whenua Māori, tēnā rā koutou katoa.

My name is Kanapu Rangitauira, my tribal affiliations are Te Arawa, Ngāti Porou and Te Whakatōhea. My role at Whenua Oho is to connect and engage with you, our Māori landowners, to understand your aspirations for your whenua, and to assist in developing a bespoke plan to make those aspirations a reality. In that regard, it is quite a privilege to be able to empower our whānau with information and to provide options to assist in developing our underutilised land. If you are considering developing your whenua, please contact us either via our website, Facebook page or Google Maps.

Whenua Māori and the Emissions Trading Scheme

Want to know more about the Emissions Trading Scheme (ETS)?

Want to know if your whenua is eligible to receive carbon credits?

Whenua Oho is pleased to announce that we will be holding an ETS information seminar specifically for Māori landowners. This seminar will be held next month (August) in Rotorua with an option to join via zoom. Keep an eye out for more information about this event in your inbox and on our Facebook page.

Careers Pathway Scheme

Informing our Māori landowners of the Careers Pathway Scheme (CPS), a new initiative launched by the Te Manatū Ahu Matua | Ministry of Primary Industries (MPI) which aims to increase the number and diversity of advisers in the independent farm advisory sector to encourage more young people, more women, and more Māori into these roles.
